Catalog Course Description:
English 101: College Composition and Research

Prerequisite: ENGL 035 with a grade of “Pass” or ENLA 100 with an “A” or “B” or appropriate assessment

Transfers to: UC, CSU

This is a composition course that enables students to generate logical, coherent essays and reports necessary to academic and professional success. Students will become proficient in research techniques, learn critical reading and thinking skills through expository and persuasive reading selections, and apply these skills to creating original essays and a final research paper. The lab component of this course is designed to assist students in improving and refining their writing and language skills. Students will complete lab activities that enhance their ability to compose logical, well-supported arguments that exhibit grammatical fluency and correct documentation form. Students will meet with composition instructors through individual conferences that address students’ specific writing concerns. This course is designed for students who wish to fulfill the General Education requirement for Written Communication.

3.5 Units

Student Learning Outcomes:
Given a topic or by choosing a topic, the student will write an essay supporting a thesis by incorporating evidence from various sources and documenting said sources using MLA format. The student should be able to clearly demonstrate a thesis, use good analysis of outside sources, incorporate source material smoothly and accurately, and use MLA format correctly.

By logging into this course you affirm that you are the student who enrolled in the course(s) and are the person who will complete the assigned work.
