Articulation Agreement
Rio Hondo College
Public Safety Division, and
University of Alaska Fairbanks
Homeland Security and Emergency Management

This articulation agreement between Rio Hondo College and the University of Alaska Fairbanks (UAF) is intended to facilitate the transfer of credit between the institutions for students in the below-listed Public Safety Division degree programs at Rio Hondo College, who plan to complete UAF’s Bachelor of Emergency Management (BSEM) in Homeland Security and Emergency Management (HSEM). This agreement encompasses the following Rio Hondo Public Safety degree programs:

- Associate of Science in Administration of Justice
- Associate in Science in Administration of Justice for Transfer
- Associate of Science in Corrections
- Associate of Science in CIT: Cybersecurity
- Associate of Science in Fire Technology
- Associate of Science in Homeland Security
- Associate of Science in Wildlife Fire Technology

Transfer Agreement Details

- University of Alaska regulations authorize UAF to accept credits in transfer for courses at the 100-level or above, with grades of C- or better, from regionally accredited institutions.
- Up to 33 Rio Hondo College credits can be used to meet the BSEM degree program’s lower-division required emergency services or other approved subject area credits.
- A student who earns an Associate of Science degree at Rio Hondo College will be eligible for a waiver of UAF’s lower-division general education requirements.
- Regardless of total number of credits transferred from Rio Hondo College, all degree requirements for the BSEM program must be met and at least 30 semester credits must be completed at UAF.
  For BSEM degree requirements, see http://catalog.uaf.edu/bachelors/bachelors-degree-programs/homeland-security-emergency-management/.
- Admission to UAF’s BSEM will require a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or greater and satisfaction of all other conditions of admission as stated in UAF’s catalog and at http://uaf.edu/admissions/apply.
- Both Rio Hondo College and UAF agree to notify each other of changes to accreditation status or curriculum.

Transfer without an Associate of Science Degree

Students who transfer to UAF before they have completed their Rio Hondo College Associate of Science degree may not qualify for the lower-division general education waiver and may have additional general education classes to complete in order to meet baccalaureate degree requirements.

- To see UAF’s general education requirements, go to http://catalog.uaf.edu/bachelors/general-education-requirements/.

- To see how individual Rio Hondo College general education classes can be used to meet UAF general education requirements, see the Table of GER Substitutions: Non-UA Institutions at http://catalog.uaf.edu/getting-started/transfer-credit-credits/.
- To see how Rio Hondo College general education classes transfer to UAF, go to uonline.alaska.edu > Transfer Credit Resource Site.

Students who change majors from the BSEM to another UAF program need to be aware that degree requirements vary.
