Catalog Course Description:

This is an in-depth study of the legal responsibilities of the law enforcement and judicial segment of the administration of justice system which includes a past, present, and future analysis of the procedures of each subsystem within the administration of justice system from initial entry to final disposition, and the relationship each segment maintains with its system members.

After an introduction course, the next logical step is to address the area known as adjective law. This law sets out the basic procedures of law and cases to support the rationale behind the court's decision.

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Presented with an example of criminal conduct the students will correctly identify which course of action is appropriate
2. Given a real-life problem the students will correctly identify which statute(s) has/have been violated.
3. Presented with items gathered at a crime scene the students will correctly identify the type of evidence and its admissibility.

By logging into Canvas you affirm that you are the student who enrolled in the course(s) and are the person who will complete the assigned work. Furthermore, you agree to follow the regulations regarding academic integrity, personal identification and the use of student information as described in BP 5500 (Standards of Conduct) and AP 5520 (Student Conduct Procedures) which are the Rio Hondo College student conduct codes that govern student rights and responsibilities. You acknowledge that failure to abide by the regulations set forth in BP 5500 and AP 5520 may result in disciplinary action, including expulsion from the college.
