Subject:

Introduction to Physical Geography Laboratory

Email Contact Information:

amindes@riohondo.edu

Catalog Course Description:

The physical geography laboratory is designed to acquaint students with the methods, techniques and procedures used by geographers in the study and analysis of the physical environment. Students will use maps, the internet and other tools to work with real-world geographic data. This course fulfills the general education lab requirement in physical sciences when taken with or after Introduction to Physical Geography (GEOG101).

Student Learning Outcomes:

- Student learning outcomes will include but are not limited to the following:
- Students will identify place names on a blank set of maps.
- Students will locate places on a world map using latitude and longitude values.
- Students will be able to predict the affect of temperature on saturation of the air (as it relates to condensation and evaporation).

By logging into Canvas you affirm that you are the student who enrolled in the course(s) and are the person who will complete the assigned work. Furthermore, you agree to follow the regulations regarding academic integrity, personal identification and the use of student information as described in BP 5500 (Standards of Conduct) and AP 5520 (Student Conduct Procedures) which are the Rio Hondo College student conduct codes that govern student rights and responsibilities. You acknowledge that failure to abide by the regulations set forth in BP 5500 and AP 5520 may result in disciplinary action, including expulsion from the college.

This is NOT a self-paced course. There are firm deadlines in this class. There are assignments due on a regular basis. Please plan your time carefully!
